Pamella Herpio

Pamella Herpio, a photographer with a wide look in various areas of photography and deep soul, able to capture the essence of where she passes. This can be noticed in the diversity of images recorded in the constant travels around the world. The real interest in discovering new cultures and the connection with nature are printed in the works, which invite an extra-sensory experience in beautiful landscapes, expressive faces, unusual cultures between cities in Latin America, United States, Europe, Southeast Asia, and India.

She born on the island of Vitória, Brazil, she majored in marketing and specialized in photography at the New York Film Academy in Los Angeles, California. With sensitive language, Pamella achieves the miracle of freezing time, eternalizing moments, and materializing on the screens, feelings of the soul. These records have already been exhibited in Brazil, England, Portugal, Argentina, and the United States.

"The camera is my third eye, I use it to make art. So I express the beauty from many angles and I follow my path by sharing. My images are representations of what my eyes have ever seen".
